

Tarot Court Cards

Court Cards are considered by many tarot readers to be the most difficult cards to read. Are they people? Aspects of the client? Impersonal forces at play? We will expand our knowledge of the cards, but then narrow down ways to find the most specific information in them. We'll learn:

- ◆ How rank, suit, & element discern energies, personalities, & professions
- ◆ Astrological correspondences for more detailed character traits
- ◆ Tricks for evaluating whether these cards represent the querent on their path or other characters in the drama
- ◆ Different styles of rank (is Knight or King at the top?), making it easy to read a variety of decks and offering fresh insight into your deck of choice
- ◆ How to determine relationships, compatibility, and balance of power

Populate your readings with real-world people:

Bring the courts out of the mental haze and put their feet on the ground!

Sundays, Aug 5-26 | 2:30-4:30 pm | Isis Books | $100

Info or register at Isis Books, 303-761-8627 or visit JoyVernon.com.

"The first thing that impressed me about Joy's very true-to-life reading style was her use of courts as real people in my life." — Hal Weeks, Designer of Wickwillow Tarot

With over twenty years' experience teaching energetic and esoteric modalities, Joy brings expertise and practiced familiarity to her specialty of esoteric tarot, which layers astrological and qabalistic symbolism onto the traditional tarot structure. Joy works as a tarot reader, astrologer, and teacher at Isis Books. To learn more, visit JoyVernon.com.

